

...and very soon the subconscious musical duo was joined by Pam and Teri. In one week they decided to do a performance ...

... But yet the weird curve crept into their lives melding four very different personalities into a musical performance group. Only the WEIRD

CURVE

could make such songs as "MAGGOTS IN POTATOES" and "art sluts" and "schizophrenia" appealing to a wide and diverse audience.

Suddenly the parody of pretending to be musicians twisted into a reality and thus as the clouds fill with water and the storm releases - the four showered upon the small town of Columbia, Mo and then vaporized as soon as the storm was over.

(Such metaphoric allusions to the ambient yet Plutonian aspect of ... [you guessed it!] The weird curve ... are applicable in the instance of verbalizing a purely metaphysical term.)

directions
directions

directions
directions

MEANWHILE ... the four: Teri, Pam Ann and Sheila went separate directions